STATE PROHIBITION LAWS. Senate bill subjecting imported liquors to the provisions of the laws of the several states. In connection with the latter bill, Mr. Wilson (Iowa), who reported it from the judiciary committee, said that he would ask the Senate to take it up for consideration at an early day. THINKS THE BILL SHOULD COVER OFIUM, TOO. Mr. Hoar, a member of the judiciary com mittee, explained that the bill had been rendered necessary by the late decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, holding that intoxicating liquors manufactured in one state and conveyed into another and there sold by interfered with by states. The court had intimated that states could not pass such prohibitory or regulating statutes without the permission of Congress. He fully con-curred in the purport of the bill, but he sup-posed that the principle of the court's opinion extended to other things than distilled spirits (to opium for instance), and he should have preferred that the bill should have applied to all articles which states might desire to prohibit the sale of. However, in order not to de lay action in the matter, he had assented to the report of the bill.
